

The Cold Nights

It's on the cold nights that I notice your absence most.

I curl in a ball,
Buried below two comforters,
Waiting for my body to warm
The small cavity I occupy.